I don't know him but I can imagine how his mother is feeling because I'm crying just looking at it. It totally breaks my heart to try & understand how a mother can bury her child! I don't think I could go through with it. God Bless You & God Be With You Now & For Always!

“ Little Ahden you started out as Jaylen's friend and you became my families' lil friend as well. We will cherish the short time and memories that we had with you forever!! We could feel you smiling down at us on yesterday as we did a balloon release in your honor. Your buddy Jaylen is sad, but please visit him often and let him know you are ok. We love you Ahden.
