“ Gram,
I can't believe I'm sitting here writing on your obituary. I know we all have to go at some point but I just couldn't think of you leaving. You were such a great grandmother to all your grands and great-grands. You always filled us with encouragement and knowledge. I always told people you were the smartest person I know. I wish I could come sit next to you and have one last conversation.. one last laugh.. one last hug.. I wish I could hear you tell Preston one last time "Your amazing just the way you are" like you always did when he was around. My memories with you are ones I will cherish forever and although physically you are not here.. In my heart you will always be.. Love you Gram Gram❤️
