“ My dear sweet uncle you will truly be missed. I can't believe you will no longer be here physically but I know you will be here with your family spiritually and you will forever live in our hearts. We had a special bond we got along very well he always told me he loved me and I always told him the same. My heart has been heavy since Feb 24th 2015 I have cried so many tears I have had some many sleepless nights. But I know he's home now with his mother, father and brother. So to my family and to his friends let's not cry for thee let's rejoice and remember and celebrate the life of an kind hearted, funny, loving ,caring man. You will NEVER BE FORGOTTEN UNCLE!!!!

“ What do I say to the man I spent 27 years of my life with. I love you from here to eternity. I love you for first loving me, I love you for the times we spent together, I love you for the 4 beautiful children we share together, I love you for trusting me with you, I love you for choosing me, I love you because you'll always be my teddy bear, my bae and my husband. I never thought that this day would come so soon but it has and I'm grateful because we truly did as we said in our vows til death due us part. Like you always said to me " I meant my vows " which meant you wasn't going anywhere and neither was I. You were an excellent husband, father, pop pop, and friend, I love you with everything in me.. So on March 5, 2015 I prepare to say good bye to my best friend, my lover, my companion, the man who gave me something to live for in the beings of Jeremiah Lamont Hollis and, Jessica M. Hollis, Nyriah Unique Hollis and Aniyah Miracle Hollis. Rest easy and continue to watch over and protect us. I love you forever..

Your first and only love your Wife,
Kenya V. Hollis

“ Well, my brother its been many years that we have shared each others lives, and the time has come to say our good byes, as I hold back the tears that continue to flow. Somewhere in it all I know that it's going to be ok, with the peace that knows how you always loved everyone, I have so many memories that flood my heart, without over taking me I'll rest knowing that the last time I saw you we knew that it was the love we shared that allowed us to laugh as we did. This won't ever be easy not seeing your face or hearing your laugh but I'm able to go on knowing that people thought you and I were blood sister and brother instead of joined by marriage, due to the completion we shared so from one read to another REST my brother. And know that missing you and loving you will be something I will always do thanks for being in my life. At this time I don't wanna say bye. So I'll say love holds a bond that can't be broken, LOVE YOU.

“ Jeremiah , as I pace the floor all night, I think of you. I remember when you were born on Dec. 19, 1971, Jerrold was claimed as my baby and you Jeremiah was Kim's baby. Dada was giving out cigars because he was so proud that he had another set of twins, unheard of. You was so unique with your red, orange and gold hair. As we pushed the stroller people often comment about your hair color. As I witness you grow into the man and person you were, I felt so proud that you are my baby brother. I thank God for his tender mercy for allowing us to see you before you joined mommy, daddy and Azon. .To know you Jeremiah is to love you, there's a pain in my heart that I can't explain. You reminded me so much of Dada with your fingers, feet, your laugh and disposition. As tears fall I know you're not suffering anymore and it was hard for us especially your children. Thank you for all the good memories and the fish fries, bbq's. Your prayer was answered for us to see you one last time. No matter what, the love we have will be external. No more suffering and no more pain so take your rest my brother in peace. Forever your sister Vanessa.
