“ Reverend Ike. N.W.A wrestling. The Young and The Restless. As the World Turns. Gunsmoke. These are just some of the shows i remember watching as a child on my grandmother's bedroom floor in her room. The smell of you getting your hair curled in Sis Rozier kitchen. The summers where we had to pick up peacans out the back yard and shelling peas on the front porch. The afternoons where you sent me to Mrs Bee house to get poundcake wrapped in wax paper and then walked over and sat on her front porch for hours talking. The times you shielded me from getting a beating because you already chastised me in your own way. The silent moments we had where your look was enough to make me straighten up and get back in line. I will always love you and thank you for shaping me and molding me into the person i am today. Im writing this with a smile on my face thinking that you have lived a long and complete life. Psalms 90:10 gives us 70 years. 80 if you are strong. My grandmother rested at 90. Enough said. Love you gra!
